Punctuation Rap

Punctuation rap is a game we play.
It's fun to do, and we can learn that way.

Take the period, the period; he's not hard to understand.
You'll find him at the end of a sentence or command.
He marks abbreviations, shortens words that are long.
Don't forget the period, he's small but strong.

Question mark, question mark, what did you say?
He follows a question, that's the only way.

Wow! Awesome! Rad! Hurray!
The exclamation point is next; he's got something to say.
He follows something loud, he's excited to play.
Don't use him too much, he won't be special that way.

The comma is next, he is used a lot
He can separate a list of some groceries you bought
You'll find him in the middle of the year and the date,
Between two adjectives, or a city and state.

You can join two sentences with a "but" or an "and"
Just remember the comma, he will give you a hand.
There is one more place that our comma has been,
He comes after a clause that tells you when.

The dash-the dash-he's here, then he's gone.
If you need to make a pause, then you bring him along.

Quotation marks are nosey. They have no reservations
About hanging around in any conversation,
You must put quotes around a thing that is said,
And also a poem or a story you've read.

The colon likes to show a list that will come,
His brother, the "semi" will not be outdone.
The semicolon joins two sentences with no, and
If you have too many commas, he can take a stand.

Mission Accomplished!!

We ended those pesky sentences.

You did great, earthlings!!
