

Summary of the message

The current research aims to (calendar geographical approach for the primary stage according to the quality standards of education(

As they approach the limits of geographical research to fifth grade teachers and elementary and material parameters in the geographical center of Diyala province, for the academic year 2011 2012 m

Included the research community from the original teachers about (150) The research sample was Chkmmelt (50%) of the original, or about (75) teacher and a teacher of the school center of Diyala and in light of the above the researcher to build a tool questionnaire by reference to the sources, who addressed the criteria quality in the evaluation of curricula and previous studies and confirmed, the researcher believed the tool to the attention of a group of experts and the stability of the researcher confirmed by re-application-resolution in its final form as it consisted of (72) a special paragraph to teachers spread over five areas.

The researcher dealt with the data statistically using Pearson correlation coefficient, and the weighted average, weight percentile, and percentage.

Results showed that the paragraphs achieved in the curriculum (60) and paragraph (12) paragraph is achieved and this means that the researcher had diagnosed the strengths and weaknesses in the curriculum of geography (the Arab world(

At the end of the research the researcher presented a number of recommendations including.:

- 1. Need to focus on writing a curriculum at the primary stage according to the criteria of total quality.
- 2. Must provide the means and modern techniques in the curriculum for primary schools and they are important in the educational process.
- 3. Teachers must be involved in the development of substance geographical geographical approaches for the primary stage.

- 4. Recommend the Ministry of Education to take advantage of the search results and the adoption of the calendar.
- 5. Directorate must evaluate curricula for geography curriculum for all grades of the existing curriculum of geography.

The proposals made by the researcher are:

- 1. Prepare a study on the content analysis approach to the Arab world geographical fifth grade primary.
- 2. A study to determine trends in the fifth grade student's primary geographical article about the Arab world in the fifth grade of primary.
- 3. A study calendar for other materials in the fifth grade of primary according to the criteria of total quality