

Ministry of Higher Education and Scientific Research
Diyala University
College of Basic Education
Department of psychological Guidance & educational direction

Scholastic Educational Crisis of the Iraqi Child Morphan on Primary Level

*A Thesis of submitted to the Council of College of Basic Education
Diyala University
As part of the requirements of the Masters Degree in Education (Education basics)*

By Zian Tawfiq Marza

Under the supervision of Prof.
Mahmood Muhammad Salman

2012 A.D

1433 H.H

Abstract

The present study is discusses the scholastic educational crisis which Iraqi child suffered from through the scholar environment context . This because of the importance of orphan phenomenon and it's specialty on Iraq . Most of this phenomenon is a result of human performance production, due to wars and violence not normal death . The Iraqi society pass exceptional circumstances for along time so the result produce a lot of morphan causes . Also the Iraqi morphan was a witness for these circumstances which made him deeply suffers and this was on elated his total life specifically on his scholastic environment .

This study discussed the basic concepts of the subject of study represented on crisis and morphan on the light of theoretic concepts that explains crisis idea . The study depends on integration perspective to treat the problem of the study .

The present study therefore aims at :

- 1- Building a measurement for scholastic educational crises of the Iraqi child morphan on the scholastic environment collect.
- 2- Identifying the nature of crisis (educational , social , psychological and economical) .
- 3- Identifying the connected relationship between these crisis .

To achieve these aims, the researcher applied the design measurement for this purpose on educational instructor teacher . The sample has been chosen randomly from different stages of the research community which is represented by primary school teachers of Diyala education directorate in Diyala province .

After collecting special information on research problem , and treating statistically by using (spss) technique .

The study concludes the following :

- 1- The Iraqi child morphan suffers from a lot of crises on scholastic educational environment .
- 2- The general frameworks for these crises are represented by educational , social, economical and psychological crisis .
- 3- There is a correlations relation with positive statistic significance among these crisis .

The study also proves a number of conclusions on the light of the results it comes out with depending on the theoretical literature it relies on the study concludes some recommendations and pedagogical implication .